HIDE & SEEK WITH MOLD

Mold may be the best hide and seek player I've ever come across. It will intentionally hide from you and can be found in places you would never dream of looking.

We've found mold behind wall panels, under furniture, behind bed frames, growing in ceiling insulation, furnace ducts, and even in a water bed foam mattress pad.

Mold typically will not thrive in the open areas. If you notice mold...it may just be the tip of the ice burg suggesting larger mold conditions exist where you can't see. Your best chance of winning the game of hide & seek with mold is to have the home professionally inspected by a contractor trained in mold detection.

Remember, just because you don't see mold doesn't mean mold growth and conditions conducive to mold growth don't exist.
